PAST RESEARCH

On-going research and study guidance to PhD students:

Institutional Collaborative Leadership Research

International Collaborative Leadership research

Completed projects:

- i) The Global Organizational Effectiveness Study (GLOBE): 1993 – 2007 (steered by Prof. Robert House, the principal investigator, of Wharton Business School, Pennsylvania.)

GLOBE was a long-term program designed to conceptualize, operationalize, test, and validate a cross-level integrated theory of the relationship between culture and societal, organizational, and leadership effectiveness. A team of 170 scholars worked together since 1994 to study societal culture, organizational culture, and attributes of effective leadership in 62 cultures. The research is based on the results of the survey of over 17 000 middle managers in three industries: financial services, food processing, and telecommunications, as well as archival measures of country economic prosperity and the physical and psychological well-being of the cultures studies.

GLOBE has several distinguishing features. First, it is truly a cross-cultural research program. The constructs were defined, conceptualized, and operationalized by the multicultural team of researchers. Second, the industries were selected through a polling of the country investigators, and the instruments were designed with the full participation of the researchers representing the different cultures. Finally, the data in each country were collected by investigators who were either natives of the cultures studied or had extensive knowledge and experience in that culture.

Lize Booyesen, was one of two country co-investigators for the GLOBE-project and collected and helped interpreted the data for:

- South Africa, Namibia, Zimbabwe, and Zambia

As part of this project Lize Booyesen collaborated on one multiple award winning specialist book (2004), one monograph, one accredited article, and co-authored one book chapter (2007). She also delivered one national and one international paper on project GLOBE.

Wharton Business School, the HSRC, NRF and Research and Bursaries Committee of UNISA jointly allocated funds for this project.

The Globe gave impetus to Lize's own pioneering Doctoral research on race and gender influences on Leadership in South Africa - (1996 - 1999).

- ii) Schwartz Global Values: Project: 2007

A SA cultural value study, in collaboration with the Hebrew University, Israel, Univ of Pretoria, Univ of Stellenbosch, Univ of the Western Cape, Univ of North West, Work well unit, Nelson Mandela University and Cape Technikon. Participated in data collection and advisory panel.

ii) Diversity and Equity Interventions in South Africa (DEISA): Towards setting standards: Steered by UCT - Dr Melissa Steyn: 2004 – 2008

SANPAD funded research, a collaboration between UCT, The Univ of the Amsterdam, Unisa, SBL and Univ of Kwa Zulu Natal. Lize was one of six South African principal investigators on an international team of eight investigators.

The aim of DEISA was to establish the nature and perceived efficacy of the diversity interventions taking place in South African organizations, as well as the orientation and approach of these interventions, and to theorize guidelines for best practice strategies on the basis of the findings. Quantitative and qualitative methodologies were employed.

Received UNISA and SANPAD funding for this project. Delivered one Conference Symposium published one paper proceeding, and a research report.

iii) Doctorate in Business Leadership: 1996 –1999

A pioneering study in Leadership and cross-cultural psychology: An Examination of Race and Gender Influences on the Leadership Attributes of South African Managers: University Of South Africa.

As part of this project Lize Booysen authored 5 accredited articles and two book chapters, co-authored one accredited article and one book chapter and authored 10 non-accredited and co-authored 2 non-accredited articles. She also delivered 5 national (of which 3 were keynote addresses) and 8 (of which two were invited) international papers/symposia.

iv) The Leadership Across Differences (LAD) project: Steered by CCL – Drs. Marian Ruderman, Kelly Hannum and Christopher Ernst: 2003 – 2010

The Leadership Across Differences (LAD) project was steered by the Center for Creative Leadership (CCL), Greensboro, North Carolina, United States of America. LAD centers on what happens when ethnic, racial, religious, and cultural conflicts come to work. It builds on CCL's expertise in the areas of U.S. based diversity and cross-cultural and global leadership. The LAD is a 12-country study and focused on societies that are seen to be most different from one another in terms of their basic cultural values. Selected countries were the U.S., South Africa, Brazil, Singapore, India, Nigeria, Ghana, Germany, France, Denmark, the United Kingdom, and Jordan.

The CCL team members worked in collaboration with a group of U.S. and international research-practitioners including Donna Chrobot-Mason (U. of Colorado), Stella Nkomo (U. of South Africa, Graduate School for Business Leadership and CCL Board Member), Lize Booysen (U. of South Africa, Graduate School for Business Leadership) Peter Smith (U. of Sussex, U.K.), and Shalom

Schwartz (The Hebrew Univ., Israel)

Received National Research Foundation and Unisa funding for 2004, 2005 and 2006 for this project.

Completed Research Outputs of LAD: 1 Accredited Journal article, 2 Research Reports, 2 Published paper proceedings, 5 international paper symposia, Lize was one of three editors on The LAD Case Book and Facilitators and Instruction Guide series that has been published in 2010.

v) Sex role Stereotyping and Requisite Management Characteristics: A South African Analysis: 2005 - 2010

A collaborative research study with Professor Stella Nkomo of the Graduate School of Business Leadership and Professor Virginia Schein, Gettysburg College, United States. The purpose of this study was to examine gender differences in sex role stereotyping of the characteristics perceived necessary for management success. Delivered one international paper on this research and published an article in an accredited journal.
